

IFR Asia Awards 2021

We are delighted to announce the IFR Asia Awards 2021. IFR Asia is looking for the most impressive deals and the institutions that have best delivered on their chosen strategy across Asia's financing markets.

The awards are focused on investment banking and capital markets transactions.

To help us in the selection process, we invite advisers and issuers to submit brief written presentations with supporting data by November 12. Please note consideration for an award will not be limited to institutions that pitch in this way. This year's awards period runs from January 1 2021 to December 31 2021.

Presentations must be brief, including short summaries of relevant transactions. Presentations for House awards should distinguish between global coordinator and bookrunner roles where appropriate and answer the following: How did your institution adapt to changing market trends over the year? How did you stand out from the competition?

Submissions should also include a clear statement of the awards for which you would like to be considered. The IFR editors may contact shortlisted institutions for further discussion, but responses are not guaranteed.

Please submit all material by email to:
daniel.stanton@refinitiv.com

Please note hard copies of any presentations are NOT required.

Presentations should also include recent, clearly identified photographs of senior executives and team members, as well as brief comments that may be included in articles about winning deals or institutions.

Presentations for deal awards should also include contact details for the relevant borrower/issuer, including a postal address.

Below is a preliminary list of the awards that IFR Asia will consider for 2021. The final list of awards to be presented will be at the editor's discretion.

Unless explicitly stated below, the IFR Asia awards take into account activity across the Asia Pacific region, including Australasia but excluding Japan. The Asian Bank of the Year must be continuously headquartered in the same region.

The awards will be announced on www.ifre.com on February 18 2022 and in the Review of the Year supplement dated February 19 2022. We are restricted by the ongoing pandemic but we hope to be able to present the awards at an event in Spring 2022.
